

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

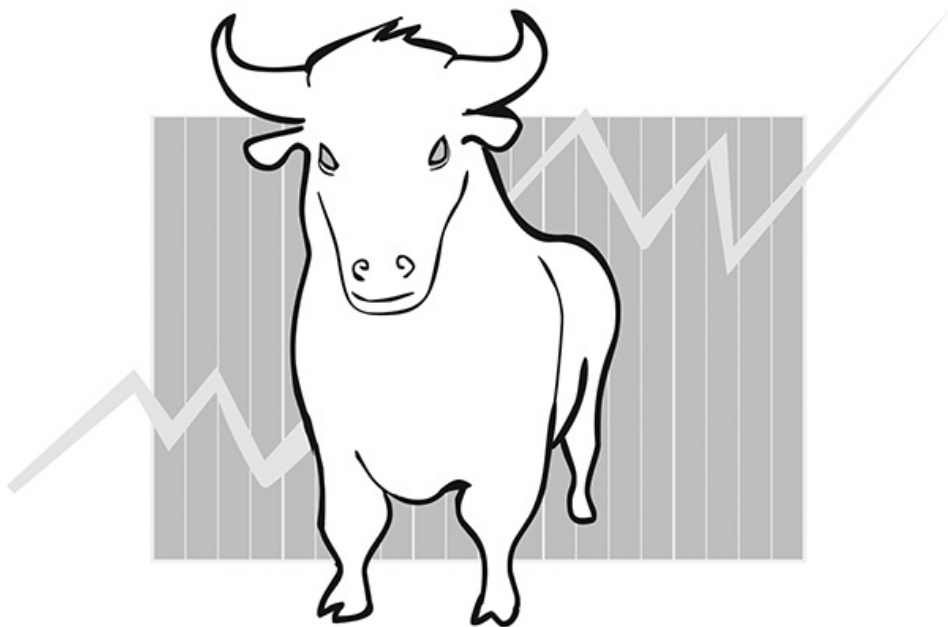

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's experience a day in the life of a New Yorker!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- What is your dream job?
- What kind of activity would you like to do every day?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about work routines.
- I can ask who, what, when, where questions.
- I can understand and give simple instructions.

Let's Explore!

On Wall Street, Sally meets an interesting New Yorker with an interesting job.

* We often describe the main financial district in New York City as "Wall Street".

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Excuse me, do you work on Wall Street?
Broker: Yes. Why do you ask?
Sally: I have a travel blog. I write about people's daily routines around the world. Can I ask you a few questions?
Broker: Go ahead!
Sally: What happens on Wall Street?
Broker: It can be busy over here. The New York Stock Exchange is the largest stock market in the world. People buy and sell shares of stocks in companies. They trade more than 500 million shares every day!
Sally: That's crazy! How does it work?
Broker: Having shares is like owning small pieces of a company. When the company does well, you make money, and when the company does not do well, you lose money.
Sally: That sounds dangerous!
Broker: It can be, yeah. You need to know the stocks!

Let's Practice!

Sally has a few questions about how Wall Street works.

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Select the correct answer.

1. Why does Sally ask questions?
 - a. She wants to work on Wall Street too.
 - b. She wants to write about people's daily routines.
 - c. She wants to sell her blog.
2. What happens on Wall Street?
 - a. People buy and sell shares.
 - b. People buy and sell vegetables.
 - c. People buy and sell socks.
3. How does the stock exchange work?
 - a. If the company does well, you lose money.
 - b. If the company does well, you make money.
 - c. If the company does not do well, you make money.

Let's Practice!

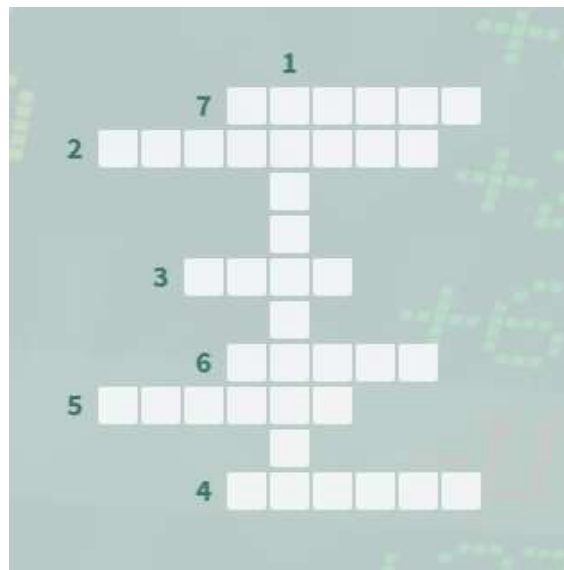

Instructions: Complete the crossword.

Down

1. Many businessmen work on _____.

Across

2. The New York Stock _____ is the largest stock maker in the world.
3. Everyone looks so _____ over here!.
4. You need to know the _____ to work here.
5. Here, people buy and sell _____ of stock in companies.
6. People _____ more than 500 million shares every day!
7. Having shares is like _____ a piece of a company.

Extension Activity

Write a paragraph about the daily routine of a person you know.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of a person you know (friend, family ...).
- Interview the person. Ask questions about their daily routine.
- Write a short paragraph (5-8 lines) about their typical day.
- Read your paragraph to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write about the daily routine of a person I know.

☐ ☐

I talk about daily routines.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- Wall Street (noun): a street in New York City where many financial buildings are located e.g. Many businessmen work on Wall Street.
- stock exchange (noun): a market where people buy and sell financial items
e.g. The New York Stock Exchange is the largest stock market in the world.
- busy (adjective): having a lot of things to do e.g. Everyone looks so busy over here!
- stock (noun): the financial value of a company
e.g. You need to know the stocks to work on Wall Street!
- share (noun): one of the equal parts of a company's financial value
e.g. Here, people buy and sell shares of stocks in companies.
- to trade (verb): to exchange for something else
e.g. People trade more than 500 million shares every day!
- to own (verb): to possess
e.g. You own a piece of a company when you buy a share of it.

Learning Points

Talking About Daily Routines

Daily routines are things you do every day.

When you talk about daily routines, you use the Simple Present tense and a preposition of time like at, until, by and from ... to.

You use expressions of time like On Saturdays ... to say that you do things on a regular basis.

You use adverbs and expressions of frequency to talk about daily activities like every day.

Prepositions of Time	Adverbs and Expressions of Frequency
at until by from ... to	always usually often sometimes occasionally hardly ever never every day / every week

Examples:

- People buy and sell shares of stocks in companies. They trade more than 500 million shares every day!

