Let's Start!

Are you tired of traffic? Let's take a walk through Central Park!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about directions to places in a limited range of social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about places in a city.
- I can ask and say where a place is.
- I can express necessity and suggestions.

Ask your partner:

- Do you want to live in a city? Why?
- Do you prefer to live somewhere quiet? Why or why not?

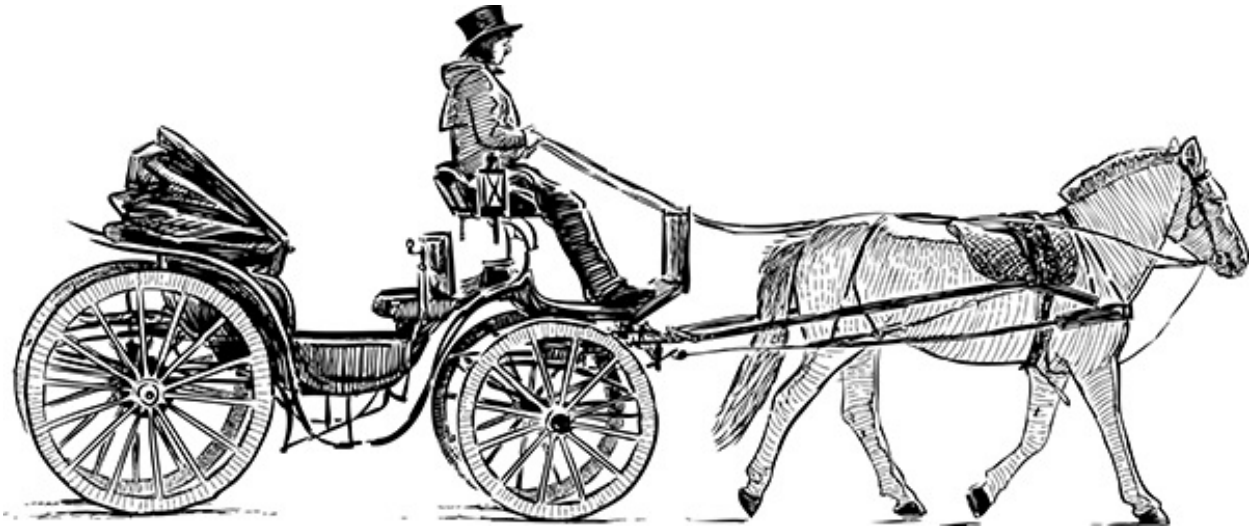

Let's Explore!

It's Sally's first day in the Big Apple!

* The nickname "Big Apple" first started in the 1920s.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

This is my first day in the Big Apple. There are already so many things I need to write about! I should start this post from Central Park. It's one of the wonders of New York City. Central Park is in Uptown. This is the place where New Yorkers escape when they need to find peace and quiet. Here you can meet pedestrians, joggers, cyclists, and people riding carriages. It's wonderful!

It's easy to get here. You could take the subway, but you have to walk to enjoy the scenery. Central Park is beautiful. From here, it is difficult to hear the rumble of traffic. You need to take a walk by the pond or through the lawn!

Let's Practice!

Let's talk about Central Park.

Instructions: Read the text again. Select the correct answer.

1. In Central Park you can see...
 - a. horses carrying people around.
 - b. cars driving on the lawn.
 - c. a big apple.
2. From Central Park...
 - a. you can hear the rumble of traffic.
 - b. you can hear a lot of construction noise.
 - c. you can't hear the rumble of traffic.
3. Central Park is...
 - a. wonderful.
 - b. stressful.
 - c. difficult.

Let's Practice!

We have to practice speaking!

Instructions: Complete the sentences. Write the missing words. Use: you have to / should / need to / they need / You need to. Read the sentences aloud.

1. There are already so many things I _____ write about!
2. I _____ start this post from Central Park.
3. This is the place where New Yorkers escape when _____ to find peace and quiet.
4. You could take the subway, but _____ walk to enjoy the scenery.
5. _____ take a walk by the pond or through the lawn!
