

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Buy low, sell high - Welcome to the New York Stock Exchange!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you save or spend your money?
- Do you put it in the bank? Why? Why not?
- How do you invest your money?

Can Do Statements

- I can write about places in a city.
- I can express necessity and suggestions.
- I can write about where something is located.

Let's Explore!

Sally sends a quick e-mail to Peter about New York.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Hey Peter,

Let me tell you about yesterday. I was on Wall Street! I feel on top of the world!

The concierge at the hotel said we had to go on a tour of the New York Stock Exchange. I didn't realize that it was a National Historic Landmark. It was a real eye-opener. We arrived in time to hear the opening bell that marks the beginning of each trading day.

A broker then led the tour group through a maze of offices onto the trading floor. We could see the big television screens with data above us. The brokers were busy shouting and waving their arms across the room.

They were busy buying and selling shares. Anyone visiting New York should spend a few hours watching these people work. It's a must-see! I still don't understand how people can work with all that noise!

I'm off to see the Empire State Building.
Take care.

Sal

Let's Practice!

Where should I go in New York City?

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

- | | |
|------------------------------------|--|
| 1. It's a | was a National Historic Landmark. |
| 2. I'm off to see | the Empire State Building. |
| 3. The concierge at the hotel said | spend a few hours watching these people work. |
| 4. Anyone visiting New York should | we had to go on a tour of the New York Stock Exchange. |
| 5. I didn't realize that it | must see! |

Let's Practice!

Let's practice prepositions of place.

Instructions: Select the prepositions of place in each sentence.

1. A broker then led the tour group through a maze of offices onto the trading floor.
2. We could see the big television screens with data above us.
3. The brokers were busy shouting and waving their arms across the room.
4. I was on Wall Street!

Extension Activity

Landmark Research

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go online and research a landmark anywhere in the world.
- Complete the table below.
- Present the information to your class or a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I identify landmarks on the Internet.

☐ ☐

I organize my research into a table.

☐ ☐

I present my research to my class or my partner.

☐ ☐

Name of landmark:

What is it?

Who built this landmark?

When was it built?

Is the landmark natural (like Niagara Falls) or man-made (like the CN Tower)?

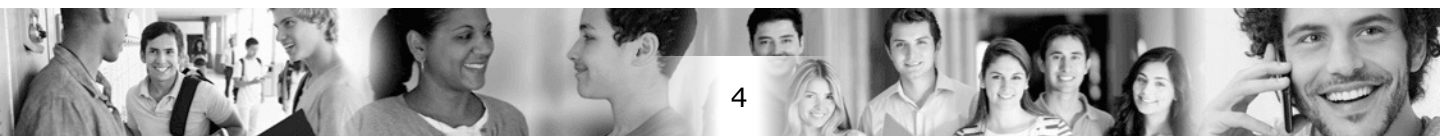

What is important or unique about it?

Interesting fact(s):

Target Words

- eye-opener (noun): something surprising
e.g. The NY Stock Exchange was a real eye-opener.
- bell (noun): a cup-shaped metal object that makes a ringing sound when it is hit e.g. They rang the bell at the start of the day.
- maze (noun): many connected passages
e.g. He took us through a maze of offices.
- data (noun): facts or information used to calculate, analyze, or plan something e.g. There was a lot of data on the screens.
- a must-see (noun): something that must or should be seen e.g. You should watch them work. It's a must-see!
- stock exchange (noun): a place where shares of a company are bought and sold e.g. We went to the New York Stock Exchange.
- to invest (verb): to use your money to purchase stock in a company
e.g. I want to invest my money in shares.

Learning Points

Writing About a City and Its Landmarks

To write a descriptive paragraph about a landmark you include the following about the landmark:

- Name and location

Example: The New York Stock Exchange is located downtown.

- Who designed it, when it was built

(use the Simple Past tense)

Example: It was built in 1817; the group Intercontinental Exchange started the construction.

- A description of the interior and exterior

Example: It has an amazing view; there's a lot of noise; you see large rooms in it; it's one of the tallest buildings in Manhattan.

- Interesting facts

Example: They ring a bell to start and finish the day.

- Your opinion (what did you think about the landmark?)

Example: This building is impressive, it's a total eye-opener!

